LETTER FROM THE BARON AND BARONESS

Unto the populace of Stromgard do We Duncan and Moira, Lord and Lady Stromgard send you all greetings A Reminder that we will be hosting Stromgardicon at our place November 23rd. We have plenty of space for RPGs, Miniatures, and Tabletop Games. The main point of this is for folks to get together and have fun! If you would like to run a game, please contact His Excellency Duncan. Father Christmas will be attending Stromgard Yule. Parents – please have your children send their letters to Father Christmas via His Excellency as HE Duncan is the yule event Ambassador. We want to make sure that we have plenty of gifts for all of the children. Those of you who will be competing for the Stromgard StormMaker at Founding Revel. Get Ready! Bring it on! Show us your art! We are looking forward to seeing your amazing creativity, skills and dedication to your craft.
1 - Finished Project with appropriate documentation.
2 - A Work in Progress to show us the process.
3 - Surprise Surprise Surprise - On Site Timed Activity from a goodie box. Please Note - We made the choice to remove the fire component requirement from the competition. You are not restricted from using fire, but We are not requiring competitors to use fire. We plan to host a siege cooking/ cooking contest at Grand Thing for a War Point, more information on this to follow.
In Service Duncan and Moira Lord and Lady Stromgard.

12 Days of Christmas History: There are three known French carols that are exceptionally similar to the Twelve Days of Christmas from 1780 and pre-date it by a good margin, with versions possibly going all the way back to the 8th century, but this isn't fully clear. Notably, these songs also include giving a partridge as the first gift given, though instead of being in a pear tree describes a "merry little partridge " or "petriz" in Old French. The earliest extant version of the lyrics were published in London under the title "The Twelve Days of Christmas sung at King Pepin's Ball", as part of a 1780 children's book, Mirth without Mischief. Other early versions included such things as "11 bulls a-beating" and "12 bells-a-ringing." The "five golden rings" are not thought to originally refer to actual rings, but in keeping with the theme of bird gift giving, probably refer to the necks of ring-necked pheasants. Some misinterpretations crept in the modern version. For example, original four "colly birds" (or "collie birds"), "five golden rings" referring ring-necked birds (such as pheasants), making the first seven gifts all types of birds.

Gold Key: Kata present, written report

Greetings to all! Big thanks to those that were able to help with the gold key purge. With your efforts we got it down to only 5 totes of garb. The rest of the items are going up for sale at the Stromgard garage sale happening this month. Money made from selling off these items will go towards the purchase of material to help make new items for Gold key. There will be future workshops with arts and science for the building of these items. A inventory and check out system is in the works. Hope-

Knight Marshal: Brand absent —written report provided by Duncan

Attendance this past month has been between 9 and 19 fighters showing up for practice. We have moved practice back to the shop for the now, and will return to the park next Summer. The next Tri Baronial practice will be held on Sunday October 20th between 2pm and 5pm. There are no injuries to report at the local practice.

Rapier Marshal: Chris present — written report

Greetings,
While not much physically happened this month, many changes are happening for the winter. I have been in this position for a little over a year now unofficially and officially. Taking a step back and reviewing the year and see what I can do for the community to encourage people to not only try rapier but to continue their pursuits in it. While I have received feedback from multiple people and thank them for it. I am looking for feedback from the barony on how to be a better officer.
The majority of feedback I have received this year is that it is difficult to get to practice that night and having after work exhaustion. Using this feedback I have decided that for the winter I will be going from a weekly practice to a Bi-Monthly practice schedule. We will have practice first and third Saturday of the month. The first Saturday will be in Vancouver area and ran by myself and the third Saturday practice will be organized by Will in the Battleground area. They have been wanting a practice in that area for a while and I think this is a great opportunity to see how it works out.

For the upcoming year as an officer I will also shift my focus from making sure practices are available and I am ready for leadership, to encouraging people to not only join us but to continue their advancement in their study, and growing the community as a whole. To accomplish this some ideas that I hope to fulfil by next October
Having more open dialog with members to make sure they feel welcomed and having fun in their pursuits in Rapier and SCA. I feel that many people will show up for a few weeks then drop off without notice. This will hopefully help with people that might of not have felt welcomed or overwhelmed. This should also help me with feedback loops to better improve for the future.
Finding ways to help people gather their own equipment by providing classes to make their own gear (including shirts, gorgets, bucklers, ect). Also increase loaner gear to 3 official sets of gear. This should help with upfront cost of this hobby.
If possible creating an unofficial ranking system to give people milestones to work towards. This will include things like becoming authorized and participating in your first tournament to becoming a Jr or Sr Marshal. This should help with feeling like you're apart of the rapier community and create a sense of accomplishment in their study of the art.
Work with other baronial marshals to have a travel practice where we get a group to go to another baronies practice. This is to help separate the silos of training and to mix things up with others beside the same people you always spar against.
Being new to the Officer/Marshal world I also want to just work with others more often. Find what works for them and what doesn't as a leader. To not only break baronial silos of information but personal silos and get to know the rapier community more.

Archery Marshal: Feradach present—written report

Greetings unto their Excellencies and the populace of Stromgard,

We only had a couple archery practices the last month. Others were canceled do to aggressively uncooperative weather. Those that were held were short due to encroaching darkness. There were no injuries to report.
Due to the arrival of Autumn and the accompanying early darkness and unstable weather patterns, I am officially putting archery practice on hiatus until next spring.

Yours in Service,

Cut and Thrust Refskegg present—written report

Greetings,
I have a short report. September was a busy month. So busy that we didn't get to host any cut and thrust.
But that is changing. 2nd and 4th Sundays at 2pm we will be doing cut and thrust at Duncan and Moira's. That will be our going forward schedule. This 2nd Sunday we won't be having it since I have dance practice and a championship meeting. But we will be in for the next one on the 27th. So please join me then and swing some steel.
Also we are putting in an order with Castile very soon and will be getting a discount if you wish to join. (% TBD)

Seargentry Kata and Refskegg present, written report

Greeting to their excellencies and populace of Stromgard. It has been discussed with Baron Duncan and Baroness Moria that the captains of Sargentry should submit a report during council. This awesome idea is so that others in the barony can see what this amazing group of people are up to. We will use this report to show case candidates, learning opportunities and maybe even have candidates share some of what they are up to during their trails. For those of you that are not familiar with Sarganrty, it has a long history in An tir and has evolved over the years. It is a platform for individuals to test their skills and knowledge, and take a bigger part and have a larger roll in their barony. At this time we would like those interest in participating in stromgards sargentry program to start reaching out to the captains and their excellencies. If you have additional questions about what is involved with sargentry please feel free to reach out to Refskegg and myself or chat us up before or after council meetings. The new set of candidates will either be starting at yule or founding revel, details to be discussed with their excellencies and event stewards.
Yours in service,
Kata and Refskegg

Letter of Intent

Dear Excellencies of Stromgard and Fellow Stromgardians,
I wish to be considered for the Baronial Scribe position for Stromgard.

Calligraphy has been an interest of mine since I was young, and over the years I attempted to teach myself several times with no real success. I took my first calligraphy class in 2016 where we learned Uncial, Carolingian and briefly touched on Lombardic illuminated letters. The scribal arts have intrigued me ever since we discussed them in a medieval history class that I took several years ago. Since those two classes I've been on a journey to learn and explore the scribal arts. I have now taken classes on applying gold, making seals, cutting quills and others. I would like to focus my passion for research, learning and art toward helping Stromgard.

My first Arts and Sciences competition was Dragon's Mist Carnevale in 2018 where I submitted an illuminated manuscript. I went in not knowing what to expect but excited for a challenge and to show what I had learned through my research on making and using vellum, paints and dyes. That experience showed me the level of mastery needed to research, produce, write about and discuss a skill at the kingdom level and I have slowly been adding to my beginner's knowledge base since then, so that when I enter a kingdom competition I will have a showing worthy of my fellow competitors. It also prompted me to investigate charters and scrolls to share my passion and become more involved in the SCA. It has been a fulfilling experience that I am thrilled to continue, and I would very much like to be part of the greater process.

Although I do not have significant experience holding positions within the SCA, I have considerable experience in administration, report compilation, organization of information and supervision of team members. I enjoy taking bits of data, compiling and aggregating it, researching other bits of information needed and turning the raw data into information someone can use. Especially if it means that information will result in the recognition and appreciation of someone. I have worked with other non-profit organizations and know that even a small recognition of the work they do has an enormous impact.

I enjoy teaching people the skills and information I am passionate about and I feel I can help to encourage education about the scribal arts by sharing that enthusiasm. I have attached an outline of my plans for this on the attached page.

Yours in Service,
Tatyanna of Stromgard

Plans for the Scribes Office

· Arrange regular scribal nights and advertise them
o Start with basics
- Laying paint
- Which charters exist
- What are they for?
- Copying of originals for painting

o Expanding to other topics
- Diapering
- Gold work
- Black/white lining
- Shading
- Techniques
- Fiddly bits Design elements/creating new charters and scrolls

· Have classes and bring in guest instructors
o Some short sessions where we learn a quick skill like a brush stroke of how to copy originals
o Some longer sessions and/or multi-session classes that focus harder or more time-consuming topics like a calligraphy hand or original scroll design

· Encourage cooperation and sharing with other baronies
· Make the concept of scribal work less daunting to new people interested in trying o Work with newcomers to find something they enjoy and get them connected to the community to assist in retention
o Make the scribal community larger and more inviting for all members
o Encourage cooperation between scribes on charters and scrolls – Many hands make light work – asking for help is a good thing!
· Expand the knowledge base of our scribes and encourage them toward kingdom level or A&S entries if they wish
· Encourage research of scribal topics and the teaching of those topics through Stromgard and An Tir
· And so many more ideas that all lead to strengthening our scribal community and helping to foster a passion for learning, research and trying new things!

10/19-20 Hauksgardr's demo — anyone that can come would be very much appreciated. If you have any questions please see the event on the book of faces (https://www.facebook.com/events/519155375524555/)

Scribe—Tatyana is applying for Scribe (Letter of intent page…) Malik offered to assist with setting up Scribal nights. This was approved by council Heraldry– It has come to Yin Yun's attention that Heraldry has been muted or gotten less attention. It does not seem to be being kept up with. He would like to know what people would be interested in regarding heraldry. He will also be posting on the Book of Faces to get a gathering of what is desired to know and learn. He would like to revive Heraldry as much as possible. If you are having an event please contact the Yin Yun via baronial email (Stromgard.herald@antir.org) so that he can make sure there are plenty of heralds handy to lend a helping voice.

Any currently filled office that you are interested in always need deputies.

If interested in an office, come to baronial council or talk to the seneschal
